COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course will cover the history of the United States from the voyages of discovery to the complexities of the modern world. It will cover the broad categories of: Discovery and Exploration, Settlement, Forging a New Nation, Growing Pains, Civil War and Reconstruction, the Industrial Revolution, World War I and II, the Great Depression, Cold War, and the Challenges of the Modern World. In dealing with our complex, industrialized, and urbanized society, it is very important for us to realize that it was ~~was~~ more simple, more agrarian and rural in nature. Understanding how and when this transformation took place is necessary for any understanding of contemporary American society.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

This course will provide students with the knowledge and skills to:

1. Describe and analyze of the major cultural, economic, political, and social trends in America from the colonial era to the present time.
2. Examine why people have changed the way they live, their form of government, and their self-concepts and ~~views~~ through the practice of critical thinking and communication skills in all assignments
3. Identify economic principles as they relate to cultural, political, ~~and~~ social aspects of society.
